ANNIVERSARY SERMON.

The members of Deseronto Lodge, No.
102, I. O. O. F., assembled at their hall on the afternoon of Sunday, April 26th, and participated in procession to the Methodist church, where the service was conducted by Bro. Rev. R. Taylor, the pastor.

The service was both interesting and instructive. Mr. Taylor delivered his admirable sermon, taking for his text, Luke 10: 29, "Who is my neighbor?" The passage, he said, showed a certain lawyer
coming to Christ and asking what he might do to inherit eternal life. This he did to test his knowledge of the law. But instead of answering him, Jesus asked him
what was written in the law, and the lawyer answered him that he gave himself to the law, and that he loved his neighbor as himself.

To do this he must love his neighbor as himself. Christ said, "This do and thou shalt live." But he, willing to justify himself, said, "But who is my neighbor?" It did not occur to him that his neighbor belonged only to his own nationality,
church or party then he would justify
himself from the ground that he loved those.

But before the Master gets through with him he convinces him that he has no such ground upon which to stand, and that he must love all men
as himself, and that he must not let his feelings of love and friendship, but that he must extend to the universal brotherhood
of the race.

To do this he must use of the parable of the Good Samaritan. Here
the road from Jerusalem to Jericho was described, also the traveler, the Samaritan,
the priest, the Levite and the Samaritan.
The question of neighborliness is now
settled and Christ says, "Go, and do thou likewise." The Samaritan was then dwelt upon as being deduced from
the subject.

The journey of life is a dangerous
one. There are robbers in the path, and the very worst sort, and all around us we can see the bitter fruits of cruel selfishness.
Young men and young women are robbed
of their manhood, and sense of duty, and purity and reputation and left half dead.

We should extend our sympathies to all
regardless of nationality, race, creed,
or social standing. The people who would crush others and deprive them of their rights because they are not of their sect or party, are the worst of men.

Let us study this parable
of the Good Samaritan, and pray over it until the true stream of their love which flows through a narrow channel, swells
into a volume large enough to sweep
enough to carry the entire human race
upon its bosom.

We have an exhibition of the principles of the practice of Christianity.

The treatment which the traveler received from the hands of the Samaritan is the kind of treatment that Oddfellows are recognized to give to all in need.

Let a member of the I. O. O. F. go where he will,
and if he takes sick or injured, all he has
to do is to report himself to the nearest Oddfellows lodge, and he will be nursed and taken care of generally. Odd-fellows act the part of the Good Samaritan
in that they both care for the sick and
the injured, and they do it for nothing.

Many are the ones who during the last year spent the long cheerless
nights watching by the bedside of their sick brothers, and many are the dollars
which have been paid by the Order to the professional and other nurses for taking care of the brethren. Some of these have been given, showing what had been done.

An exposition of the principles of Christianity.—While this parable is beautiful
as we see portrayed in it the man's role
to his fellow man, yet it is fairer still, as we behold in it the work of Christ, the merciful Son of man Himself. Man in Eden fell, and hands a robber, and man
was wounded from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet. The moral and ceremonial laws did not save, in that they were not followed, and the patriarch and prophet did not, and could not, in that they themselves were wounded. But at last the Good Samaritan came, and moved with compassion, exposed himself to dangers—
yes, laid down his life that he might live.
He pours into our wounded hearts the wine
of His blood to cleanse, and the oil of His grace to comfort and heal, and takes us into His own Church where we will be cared for until He shall come again and receive us into Himself.

Here the members of the Order were exhorted to follow in the footprints of this Good Samaritan: to visit the sick, relieve the distressed, feed the hungry, and to be kind to all men, and to love one another
as we love ourselves.

Let us enter into the love of our brethren, ye have done it unto me. Come up and enter into life eternal.

MAIABELES DEFEATED.

London, April 29.—The Colonial office
has received a despatch from Sir Hercules Robinson, Governor of Cape Colony and British High Commissioner of South Africa,
confirming the United Press report of the defeat of the Matabele on the Umuzila
River by a British force from Bulawayo.

The Matabele attacked the British in force,
and both wings were thrown forward in a enveloping movement. The British advanced parties retired with a view to inducing
the Matabele to cross the river. The route was very successful. The rebels believed that the British were retreating and looming up behind them.

The rebels made another attack, but
were within three hundred yards of the right wing of the British, fire was opened on them with the Maxim guns, and, at the same time, the right flank advanced upon them and drove them over the river. The same tactics were followed by the left flank.
The rebels made another attack, but
were again repulsed. The British then advanced and inflicted heavy loss on the rebels
in the morning of the 29th.

The British, after gaining complete possession of the field, retired to Bulawayo.
There were only three killed and six wound-

KRUGER'S CLEVER MOVE.

The Times publishes a despatch from Pretoria, which says that President Kruger's
reply, deciding to visit England, discloses Transvaal matters, is a diplomatic master
stroke by which the Transvaal Government will not discuss reforms with the British Government on the ground that the British Government admitted cannot interfere with the internal administration of the Republic. Nevertheless private suggestions from the British Government will always be considered, and the President adds that the revision of the Convention of 1854, and the superceding thereof by a treaty of amity
and commerce containing a "most favored nation" clause cannot be discussed unless the alleged grievances of the Uitlanders are also discussed, the Transvaal would prefer a less amicable basis of discussion and demand the payment of an indemnity for
Dr. Jameson's raid. He intimates that Great Britain can facilitate his going to London by accepting the basis of discussion
he has already proposed. The President frankly admits that the Transvaal Administration is in a weak position, and that the Government is not always right. He concludes by laying stress on the patience
and forbearance that have been displayed on both sides, and expressing the hope that wounded feelings will be healed and friendly relations restored.

A GREAT FEAT.

The bicycle run of "200 miles in one day"
performed by Dr. R. N. Robertson, of Stratford, Ont. on the 3rd of June, was a remarkable exhibition of endurance in a purely athletic sense. The doctor's scientific training would, no doubt, prove an important factor in successfully engineering such a feat. His record is a triumph (as will be seen by letters published in another column) he does not hesitate to award due credit for his performance to the agent he relied upon in his great effort. The doctor's testimony to the marvellously sustaining power of Maltine
with Coca Wine is entirely spontaneous and unsolicited, and therefore of great value.
His remarks, as he read with interest
by wheelmen generally, in view of his claim that Maltine with Coca Wine enabled him to keep his strength up through the
"novices on the wheel," and affirms that "it is a wonderful heart sustainer." This

HOPE WAS ABANDONED.
THE PECULIAR CASE OF MRS. HILL, OF WINCHESTER.
THE DOCTOR TOLD HER THAT HER THOUGHTS WERE ABANDONED TO THE POWER OF THE DEVIL, AND SHE WAS ABANDONED TO THE POWER OF THE DEVIL.

The air is swarming with flies, bringing the return of the vacation with it. The plan is to get out of the city, and to the country by the tail to hold her while he is. The device is designed to be used in the stables to keep the cow's tail out of the soil and out of the milk's range.

which is usually the second place she wishes to put it. It is made of a small piece of cloth, with a long handle, and is used to keep the cow's tail out of the soil and out of the milk's range.

It is a fact that is appreciated by all, that a great many cows maintained in the dairies throughout the country are not of the highest quality. The reason for this is that they are not properly cared for, and are not properly fed.

HOPE WAS ABANDONED.

THE PECULIAR CASE OF MRS. HILL, OF WINCHESTER.

THE DOCTOR TOLD HER THAT HER THOUGHTS WERE ABANDONED TO THE POWER OF THE DEVIL, AND SHE WAS ABANDONED TO THE POWER OF THE DEVIL.

Mrs. Hill, wife of Mr. Robert Hill, of Winchester, not many months ago was looked upon as one whose days were numbered. She was a healthy, hearty woman, showing no signs of her former separate condition, and it is therefore little wonder that she should have been the subject of a long and successful treatment.

Through the influence of a pupil of Frau Kaula, Hill had the pleasure of attending two of her afternoon classes, and one of her pupils, who was a young woman, had been cured of her ailment, and she was cured of her ailment.

The experience of years has proved that there is no disease due to a vitiated condition of the blood or shattered nerves, that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will not promptly cure, and those who are suffering from such troubles will find relief and save money by promptly resorting to this treatment.

The M. E. church at Cape Vincent celebrated its 44th year yesterday. Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedy cures. Never fails.

One often hears a singer say, "I wish I knew the correct way of producing the voice." Students would do well to consult to another and find that each has his own theories and methods and each calls his own the only correct and proper way.

A SPECIFIC FOR—

La Grippe, for Colds, Coughs, AND LUNG TROUBLES.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Two years ago, I had the grippe, and it left me with a cough which gave me no rest night or day. My family physician prescribed for me, changing the medicine as often as he found the things I had taken were not helping me, but, in spite of his attendance, I got no better. Finally, my husband—reading one day of a gentleman who had had the grippe and was cured by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral—procured for me, a bottle of this medicine, and before I had taken half of it, I was cured. I have used the Pectoral for my children and in my family, whenever we have needed it, and have found it a specific for colds, coughs, and lung troubles."—EMERY WOOD, North St., Elkton, Md.

Training a Heifer.

A man who is fit to have charge of dairy cows never "breaks" an untaught heifer to milk—he tames her. The former word implies the exercise of brute force, which should never be used with dairy cows, and least of all with the timid young things which are just having their first experience in maternity and lactation. The writer of this had two young heifers, which had their first calves within about a week of each other. The engraving shows how they were taught to stand still and be milked. The yard was inclosed by an old-fashioned rail fence, and when the first heifer came in she was enticed by a pail of feed into one of the angles. A light rail was then slipped into place not high enough to hold her there. She had always been accustomed to kind treatment and handling; so, after a little patting on the head, neck, side, and below, the work of milking began by reaching under the rail. Of course she was frightened and indignant at first, but she was held, where she could do no harm, and soon learned that she was not to be hurt. After two or three such lessons she stood perfectly quiet behind the rail to be milked, and in less than a week she would stand unrestrained in any part of the yard while the milker sat down on a stool by her side and performed the milking. When the second heifer came in, she was given the same treatment, and soon no two cows in the herd gave less trouble than the two youngsters.—American Agriculturist.

"Who will be the next Premier?" is the question which agitates the mind of the average man at present. A meeting will be held here on the 13th inst., when an effort
will be made to solve the problem.

Owing to the almost total failure of fall
wheat and clover the area sown this year will be much larger than last. Farmers have about completed seeding operations which has been attended with splendid weather.

TYENDINAGA RESERVE.

A very serious accident occurred to Mrs.
Charles Barnhart on Saturday last, when a team belonging to Charles Barnhart
became frightened by a shunting locomotive
near the four mills of the Rathbun
Company and ran away and threw Mrs.
Barnhart to the ground. She received a serious injury, though it is hoped not fatal.

A petition was presented to the Council
on Wednesday last, praying that a plank
walk be laid from the outside limit of the Corporation of Deseronto along the shore
to the church. It met with the approval of the residents of the east end and for the benefit of their status in the town. The amount of something over $35 will be expended this year for that purpose.

The Council has also decided to make suitable repairs to the pavilion and its surroundings before the arrival of the new missionary.

It is surprising to note the great effect of the light showers of Monday, and it is anxious hope that more will follow.

Walker Bros'. Uncle Tom's Cabin show
passed through here on their way to Roslin Saturday last. It is very seldom we are treated to a free street parade, and therefore it was greatly appreciated.

NORWAY PINK SYRUP cures Coughs.

A CLOSE VOICE.

The Sun's correspondent in London
cables:—"Will you assist in legislation designed to reduce the drink bill of the household?" was the question put to the candidate for North Aberdeen during the contest which ended in the defeat of the narrow majority. The candidate had never given any consideration to Queen Victoria's domestic arrangements and gave a vague,
soft answer, which sought to have turned away wrath, but which did not. He estimated that the question lost him scores of votes, and this is probably correct, for the questioner and his friends were desperately in earnest. It seems that the Queen's household consumed last year over $100,000 worth of beer and $30,000 of light wine. These totals do not include the amount spent in drink at Osborne and Balmoral, which being the Queen's property, the cost of their maintenance does not appear in the estimates
deposited in the House of Commons. Her Majesty, of course, has her own private cellars at all her places. Probably her capital looked up in wines is never less than $500,000. But this nobody's business but her own. Queen Victoria herself is most abstemious."

CAN HEART FAILURE BE PRE- VENTED?

Starting and brief the announcement,
"Sudden Death Caused by Heart Failure."
Such is the stereotyped announcement of coroners, juries and reporters announcing the forfeiting of those victims of indigestion
and malnutrition, who so frequently disturb themselves upon the manifestation, in multiplication of suffering, 2nd functional disturbances of the heart, symptoms which they are foolishly prone to accept as the signs of an incurable and speedily fatal malady.
Maltine with Coca Wine is potent restoring conditions that no longer render possible
such alarmingly disturbing symptoms. Mal-tine with Coca Wine, through its medicinal influence upon the nervous system, soothes into calmness the disorganized nerves. The heart, in response to increased nerve force,
no longer plunges and beats as if determined
to break.

Maltine with Coca Wine has long been recognized as the most pleasant and efficient
remedy for all those functional derangements
that find manifestation in lassitude, sleeplessness, dependency and loss of appetite
an digestive power. A tonic, a body builder, a nutrient and digestive agent of inestimable value. All druggists sell it.

HASTINGS DISTRICT COUNCIL, ROYAL TEMPLARS OF TEMPERANCE.

The semi-annual meeting of Hastings District Council of the Royal Templars of Temperance was held in the hall of the Council 5th inst. There was a good attendance of delegates, Deseronto Belleville and Napanee being represented. The meeting was held in the hall of the local council, the Napanee brethren also extending generous hospitality to visitors. The chair was taken by Sister E. Dradgins, of Belleville, District
Councillor, who presided over the session with marked ability. After the Council had been opened in accordance with the ritual,
the various committees were struck and proceeded to business, an intermission being allowed so as to enable them to draw up their reports. The District Councilor gave an interesting report which contained several important suggestions in reference to the presentation of the work. Secretary Treasurer and Wardens presenting reports gave interesting statistics of the state of the order
in the district. There had been many labors during the past few months, and the rank of the select grade had been increased.
The finances of the District Council were in a healthy condition, a substantial balance
being in the treasury.

The Committee on Temperance Work in
its report made the following recommendations:

That councils should avail themselves of
the privilege of contributing to local newspapers items of interest, editors being generally willing to allow a column for that purpose.

That every effort be made to increase
the circulation of the Templar and other temperance literature.

That it is desirable for councils to hold
open meetings as frequently as possible.

That every effort should be made to have
the meeting as attractive and instructive as possible, and that members should urge the young men to join and attend meetings.

That councils should insert the Templar
in the local newspapers and also place framed charts in public places thus advertising their existence and days and hours of meetings
with a view to giving information to visitors
and the public generally.

That parliamentary candidates at the approaching election be requested to give their influence when elected to abolish the bar in the house of commons, its presence
being offensive to all good citizens.

That councils should ask candidates at the approaching elections for the commons to give their views on the question of prohibition.

That an earnest effort should be made to
organize new councils in outlying districts,
and that an efficient organizer should be engaged for that purpose.

That license inspectors be urged to enforce
the license act with more vigor, selling
Sunday and public holidays being prohibited,
and to minors being altogether too common.

The report of the Committee on the State of the Order gave an interesting and encouraging facts and figures and showed that financially matters were satisfactory. A Council would be opened at Lonsdale in the near future.

The Committee on Finance reported that the books were all in good order and the balance reported correct.

A resolution was passed instructing the secretary to write to the Secretary of the Grand Council of the order of the Templars
to be sent to this district and Eastern Ontario generally. It was felt that the general executive had in the past not assisted the Eastern Division of Ontario as much as they should have done.

The District Counciler urged the formation of a local council at Deseronto, and that Bro. Hematree, of Napanee, was appointed to fill the vacancy in the board of trustees.

The Council, after voting on a number of resolutions, adjourned to meet in Deseronto on the first Thursday in November.

DOUGLAS' EGYPTIAN

LI-MENT

SCORES A VICTORY.

Mr. Robert Graham, of Elgin, writes
Douglas & Co., Napanee, Ont.

Gentlemen,—Having regained use of my arm by use of your Douglas' Egyptian Liniment, beg to say for four months I was a dreadful sufferer. Doctors failed to cure. I attended Kingston Hospital, had of rest home in same state about as I was when I went there. Doctors could not agree as to cause of my trouble. My arm
died and used the privilege of my arm
and gave me a bottle of Liniment. I at first refused to use it as I was completely disheartened. However, he prevailed upon me
and made me promise to give my arm one application. I did, and immediately after I began to feel the effects. I followed the directions and used the bottle up, and must say it completely removed my trouble. I have been cured over two years and have had no pain since. Had I not used your Liniment there is no knowing what pain
and suffering I would have had to endure.
The 4th month I was laid up I could not rest night or day, my suffering no one knows. Your Liniment has been a godsend
to me "surely."

Yours very truly,
ROBERT GRAHAM.

It is said that a new style of rail will shortly be adopted on the Grand Trunk. The rail at present in use on the main line weighs 70 pounds to the yard, while that in use on the branch line is only fifty-seven and one-half pounds. A careful comparison of results led to the adoption of the new rail which weighs 80 pounds to the yard, and is five inches in height and five inches across the base. The new rail will be put down in small sections, as the present rail wears out. The first consignment may arrive from England this month.

A lady bicyclist started off for Napafée the other day but ran foul of a big boulder on the road and was brought up with a jerk and a splash off into the ditch. A Richmond farmer passing by remarked that he feared the "pebble" was the cause of the disaster. The so called pebble was not quite as large as a flour barrel.

Three young ladies of Napafée drove up to Deseronto on Friday evening. One of them left her purse, gloves and handkerchief on a table in the hotel at which they stopped before they went out to sit down on the balcony. In a few minutes she went back for them, but the purse was missing. It contained $2, and no trace of it could be found.

There are many farmers of Tyndinaga who have not yet sent in their subscription of twenty-five cents for membership in the East Hastings farmers' institute. They should do so at once in order to receive the valuable holdings of the Dominion and Ontario departments of agriculture, all of which will be sent free of postage. W. G. Egar and S. Russell will receive fees in Deseronto.

The Public Library.

F. S. Rathbun has been appointed chairman, and Rev. J. H. H. Coleman secretary of the Public Library Board. Carpenters and painters have been altering and brightening up the room, which will be opened again next week. The two reading rooms will be thrown into one, which will be free to both sexes alike. A. P. Brown will be librarian. There will be no smoking or games' room. About two hundred dollars' worth of new books have been ordered and supplementary catalogues will be issued. It is hoped the library will meet with the hearty support of all citizens, as without united action it cannot be a success. The rules and regulations will be found elsewhere in this issue. They are such as have been adopted in other towns and cities. They should be perused carefully. A deposit of $2 is required, which will be returned when the applicant returns his card. This is unnecessary on the part of owners of property, or to persons having a guarantee from a property owner of the town. Borrowers should be careful about their cards and slips. There is nothing to prevent any person in the town from becoming a member. Call at the library and get all necessary information.

The Tribune congratulates the Oddfellows on the success which crowned their efforts on Wednesday. Everything passed off in a way creditable to the lodge and more especially to the committee who had the affair in charge.

Runaway Accident.

A team of horses belonging to Chas. Barnhart, of the Reserve, made a lively runaway last Friday. They were standing on Third street when they were startled by some blocks of wood falling over the fence where men were piling wood. Mrs. Barnhart and an Indian were in the wagon; as soon as the horses started the Indian jumped out leaving the woman to her fate. Mrs. Barnhart was thrown out and at the Queen's hotel the horses got along the rig. They pursued their mad career along Main street.

St. George's street. It was suggested that St. George's street along the south side of Main street to the Theatre. The rushing of the horses was so great that the crowd was a poor opinion of the town and the council as they stamper over the well worn old planks on Mill street. The ratsayers already mentioned are all fast contracting a wobbling gait from constantly trading over the unequal surface of this portion of the boardwalk system. A good boardwalk is also needed on the north side of west Main street.

CONTAGION IN THE CUP.

How Transmission of Disease in the Communion Cup May be Avoided.

The recent death of a cancer patient as the result of inoculation and the recognition that consumption is contagious has suggested the possibility of danger in the common use of one cup in the administration of the communion. It is known that many partake whose physical condition demands individual service, and there are some who are deprived of this blessing from a sense of justice to other communicants. It is an interesting question whether the church is exempt from the regulations of medical science in view of this transmission of disease made possible by a collective use of one cup.

At any rate, the individual cup now largely used has met with considerable opposition because of its apparent exclusiveness. To obviate this objection a communion syphon has been devised, which retains the idea of unity and fellowship in the presentation of one cup, effectually prevents the transmission of the disease and has a cleanliness which makes it most attractive. It is intended for individual use. The wine can be freely drawn from the cup but, owing to its formation, not one drop touching the lips can return. It is easily cleaned and is of pure silver, so that no unpleasant taste is communicated. The cup is arranged in two parts, enclosed in a leather case of small dimensions, and conveniently carried.

Belief Has a Moral Quality.

Belief, as well as external conduct, has a moral quality. We are responsible for our beliefs just as we are for our overt action. Hence, it matters greatly what a man believes, because if he entertains error it will inevitably color and modify his character and impart its own moral quality to his life. If he has the means of knowing the truth, he will be held accountable for his intellectual acceptance or rejection. As to matters that are not clearly revealed, every man should get all the light he can and be fully persuaded in his own mind; and then act according to his best judgment.

Outwitted the Footpad.

Dr. Brown, of St. Louis, was walking home late one night when he was accosted by a footpad.

"Give me your money," said the thief. As quick as thought the doctor turned and in an off-handed tone said:

"What are you doing over here? Go on the other side of the street. I'm working this side myself."

With a muttered apology for his breach of etiquette, the would-be robber vanished in the darkness.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

PAIN'S BOYS AND GIRLS.

Paine's Celery Compound Gives Them Strong Nerves, Pure Blood and Healthy Bodies.

It Plants the Feet of the Young on the Sure Rock of Health.

It is now an established fact that the majority of boys and girls who are ailing and sickly, suffer from a weakened condition of the nervous system.

It should be remembered, that a boy's or girl's nervous system is exceedingly delicate, sensitive, and very easily deranged. When the young people are nervous, irritable, do not sleep well, have headache, variable appetite, sallowness of skin, and eruptions on face, be assured the blood is disordered and the nervous force weak.

When your children show signs of any of the above mentioned troubles, give them Paine's Celery Compound, as there is no other medicine so well adapted for their peculiar ailments. It will soon banish every symptom of disease, give natural appetite, sweet sleep and clear, healthy complexion.

Reported to be past help and dying her respiration given up as a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her. She says:—"From the first I was fed to believe, I am perfectly cured. I feel my heart beat again, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Brigitt's Disease at such a stage.

THE TIME FOR BUILDING.

Up the system is at this season. The cold weather has made unusual drains upon the vital forces. The blood has become impoverished and impure, and all the functions of the body suffer in consequence.

Sarsaparilla is the great builder, because it is the One True Blood Purifier and nerve tonic.

Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with all who use them. All druggists, 25c.

From every part of our Dominion, fathers and mothers have sent in thankful and grateful letters testifying in unmistakable language that their children were saved from disease by Paine's Celery Compound. Many cases are on record of young people, snatched from the grave, whom the physicians had given up as incurable.

Dr. Phelps, upon whom colleges conferred the highest honors for his deep and valuable investigations in medicine, knew from ripe experience that his wonderful prescription Paine's Celery Compound was just suited for the needs of all little sufferers.

Now is the time to build up the little one in health, so that they will be able to bear up against the hot weather when it comes.

To accomplish this desirable and necessary work Paine's Celery Compound is the only safe, sure and certain agent.

WEAK YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN.

Are seen everywhere. Heredity or over-exhaustion united to do with the responsibilities of life, susceptible to consumption or decline. Medicine has failed and must fail, for they need food. Take our cod liver oil. No! Their poor stomachs rebel. Take emulsion? No! They are equally distasteful. Nothing will effect a cure upon the digestive process, until we produce increased weight, improved color, and that elasticity and buoyancy which health and strength denote.

Liver oil has a remedial value ten times greater than emulsions. Try it.

Cobourg people will be reduced fare on the Grand Trunk Railway every Saturday so that they can go to Toronto to do shopping.

"IF YOU SHOULD DIE TO-NIGHT"

Well, it would be your own fault, if it was consumption that took you off, and you refused to take Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which has been pronounced by scientific men to be the best cure for all lung diseases.

If you have any lung trouble because you are threatened with consumption, lose not an hour in obtaining a supply of Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. It is the great blood maker, and blood is what is needed by the consumptive. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthener and blood maker and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all lung affections. In Big Bottles, 50c. and 81c. at all Drug Stores.

Some insurance companies are objecting to paying their share of the losses on the fire of the building on the ground that the building was overvalued.

A MOUTHFUL OF PEARLS.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, should be kept in perfect condition. What more repellent than ill-kept, discolored teeth? What unattractiveness more needless and inexcusable? Ivory is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of giving to the teeth that soft, shining whiteness so much desired and admired, and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant.

Ivory is a delicate requisite, and accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

Norwood will have a board of trade.

Wm. Meath has a frog preserve in Trenton.

Robt. Rorke, of the Gazette office, Picton, will remove to Rochester, N. Y.

As the strength of a building depends upon the solidity of its foundation, so health depends upon the condition of the blood. To become vigorous and life-giving, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the most powerful and effective medicine in use.

Sudden Deaths!

SPRING WEATHER CHANGES ARE THE CAUSE.

WHAT WE INHERIT.

We are not to blame for. We cannot be held responsible for the dispositions and tendencies which we inherit from our ancestors, nor are we responsible for the germs of disease which may manifest themselves in our blood as a heritage from former generations. But we are responsible if we allow these germs to develop into serious diseases which will impair our usefulness to our country and to our families. We are responsible if we transmit to our descendants the disease germs which it is possible for us to eradicate by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great true blood purifier. This medicine has power to make rich, red blood and establish perfect health in place of disease.

God's Goodness.
The goodness of God is infinite and extends to all men. He sendeth His rain upon the just and unjust. He preserves
in life the good and the bad alike, "for
in Him we live and move and have our being." And He sent His Son to exhibit that love for the world. Hence it is written: "God so loved the world" that He sent His Son to die, "that whosoever believeth in Him might not perish, but have everlasting life." And God's goodness extends to even the animal creation. He has made "the high hills as a refuge
for the wild goats, and the rocks for the goats." He causeth the grass to grow
for the cattle.

He sendeth the springs into the valleys,
to give drink to every beast of the field;
the wild asses quench their thirst." The earth is full of the goodness of the Lord.

Robert H. Gordon, son of Robert Gordon, (Hungerford), and for some time with Georgie McNeil, of Belleville, died of typhoid fever in Belleville hospital on Sunday morning, aged 29. His death is greatly deplorable.

Koy, ten year old son of David Hughey,
of Belleville, ran into the barn where his father was working hay and was struck in the face by the fork. One time of the fork struck the boy in the left eye and penetrated to the brain, killing him.

A company of Kingston capitalists have secured the control of 800 acres of asbestos land in the county of Addington. The mineral will be mined and manufactured indirectly proof that the money that is in it is good. The most of the property is in the township of Kalsdar, and it is rich in the mineral.

BEEES IN CAVES.

The Mammoth Cave is getting to be a quite a beehive. From the fact that: The last time I went, through the cave I took both the long and short routes. At several places there were rather too many bees for me to feel entirely comfortable. I was not attacked by any of them. If the cave
should be explored for honey some rich finds would undoubtedly be made. The bees are increasing constantly.

DREAD KIDNEY DISEASE QUICKLY REMOVED.

To even banish the many words of praise
which are sent to South American Kidney Cure would consume large newspaper space. But take at random a few: Adam Soper, Burk's Falls, Ont.: "One bottle of South American Kidney Cure convinced me of its great worth." Michael McMillan, Chesley, Ont.:
"I procured one bottle of South American Kidney Cure, and taking it according to directions, got immediate relief." D. J.
Locke, Sherbrooke, Que.: "I spent over $100
for treatment, but never received marked result until I began the use of South American Kidney Cure." Rev. James Lurbeck, St.
John, N. B.: "I have received one hundred dollars worth of good from one bottle of South American Kidney Cure." Sold by W.
G. Eggar.

EAST HASTINGS REFORMERS.

A meeting of Reformers and others opposed to the present Dominion administration was held at Melrose on the afternoon of Wednesday, 13th inst., for the purpose of selecting
a candidate to contest the riding at the coming election. R. McVay was called to the chair and N. Vermilyea was appointed secretary. There was a large and representative attendance of clerical, civil and professional men. The following were present: J.
A. Barron, Q. C., of Lindsay, who is acting as one of the general organizers of the executive of the Dominion Reform Association, argued unity and earnest effort in the approaching campaign. It was agreed to appoint a committee to be chosen by the convention. The following were then nominated: J. M. Hurley, R. C. Clute, G.
Lyons, S. S. Vallan, J. K. McCarver,
Wm. Stoddard, Dr. Young, N. Vermyea,
Geo. Caldwell, Jas. Clare, Thos. Deary, D.
R. Levens, John C. Hanley, John Dalton,
W. C. Farley, J. A. Barron, and Peter
Murphy. Addresses were delivered by the greater number of candidates declining the honor of the nomination. J. M. Hurley, seconded by Wm. Stoddard, the nomination was, and great enthusiasm, tendered to R. C. Clute, Q. C., who has been nominated by P. Murphy, Hungerford, for the convention. J. M. Hurley, seconded by R. C. Clute, was not present and Mr. Barron was engaged to give a reply at the earliest date possible. The meeting, which was of a very high order, was closed with cheers for Mr. Clute, Hon. W. Laurier and the Queen.

DANDELION.

Firstling of the mallow year,
Ere thy golden disk appear,
Empty are the wintry days,
Barren the frozen waves;
Snows of March that will not last,
Sunlight often overcast;
But with thee our glad hearts sing
Possessors of the joyful spring.
Thine the first clear notes that please
In our floral symphonies.
Other blossoms in the May,
For loaves shall make holiday,
Summer suns again shall shine
On clover and on columbine,
And the autumn's gold and red
Fling their splendor overhead.
Yet in our advancing years,
In our gladness, through our tears,
When our summer joys are high,
When the autumn night winds cry,
Who forgets his vanished youth?
All earth's flowers are dead, in death,
Children of the dewy morn,
Thou art still the eldest born.

THE ROBINSON TREATY.

An order was received at Osogode Hall,
Toronto, from England on Saturday, May 9, giving the Dominion leave to appeal from
the judgment of the arbitration in the matter of the Robertson treaty. Last year
the question of liability for the amount to be paid by the Dominion for the purchase of land north of Lake Huron and Superior was far north as the height of land, was argued.
The inter-provincial arbitrators, Chancellor Boyd and Mr. Justice Hodge, decided that the Province of Ontario was liable against the Dominion and the Supreme Court sustained their appeal. Now the Dominion is going to have a chance to shift the responsibility back on Ontario once more and
the Privy Council will now decide the case.

THE KILLER'S REVENGE.

There was silence, and there was joy in the very look of that bag. It was composed of a light brown paper, and had "Mortuary" printed on it in big, bold letters. It was plain that Mortuary was not ashamed of herself, and, indeed, she was no reason why she should be. She was the same old and lollipop lady of the village, and well-deserved the renown that was hers. She was dear to the heart of the people, the parish, who, at this time, would have been ready to raise (pocket-money permitting) a statue, more imposing even than Mr. Peabody's, in her honor.

Norah opened her eyes wide, and colored warmly. "Now, I think we have the old lady," said Barry, gayly. "They are piping hot, I can tell you, just out of the oven; I waited for them, or I'd have been here sooner. I have my doubts about that troublesome old tart here, with verberle irony, 'being quite as good as these!'

He placed the bag upon the child's lap, and opened the mouth of it. A fragrant steam ascended. Norah, but a baby in years as yet, was not proof against the sorrow dived from her eyes, her lips parted in an expectant smile.

"'Tis jam puffs," she said, in a delighted whisper. "What that Miss Morrie said. But how can we be sure of her truth until we see now, but to take into one of them? See now, I'd think you'd be able to get through the bag in the specified sixty minutes—fifty now, by Jove!"

"Oh, no!" said Norah, with a laugh; it was a bag, as I have said, of a goodly size. "Two, ah! I should have said. And—there are the boys—they are always starving when they come home from their lessons; and there is—"

"Comie! Does she like tarts?"

"'Loves them," said Norah, with emphasis. "Good heavens! why didn't you tell me that before? He seemed stricken with self-reproach. That she should love such simple things, and yet be without them! It almost amounted to a crime. And she covered himself in a moment, however, seeing Norah's inquisitive, puzzled, glance. 'Two!' he said. 'Puff! what for!'

"Three, then," modestly. "Make it the decent half dozen when you are about it," advised Mr. Barry, genially, smiling himself on the table.

"I'll keep the rest here until you are ready to cry for the seventh."

Norah, nothing loath, threw up a dainty tarts, and soon reduced it to a crumb.

Two. Whereupon Barry, who had also been regaling himself, solemnly handed her a second. This, too, went the way of all flesh; then, a third, and a fourth, and a very light conversation accompanying their demolition.

It was a silent feast, but, on the whole, perhaps one of the pleasantest of his life. The child had ever spent, Miss MacGillivuddy's welcome absence, Barry's presence; the feeling that was her friend, that he had taken her part, happy that she was, that finally she would have the remaining tarts (there were a couple of dozen of them) to give to the boys and her Con all her heart.

"I say, old girl, you needn't hurry. There is lots of time yet," said Barry, as he handed over the fifth tart.

"No, no," said Norah, with a rush of the old terror seizing on her, "suppose she should come back now. To catch you here with the cakes—giving them to me!"

"Well, let her," said Barry, with a shrug. "I'm afraid of her? She's a regular old swamp, that I allow, but I'm as good as her any day."

"Neither it quite came home to him that he was calling himself a regular old swamp, too, Norah had no means of judging. But he could not refrain from a mild little chuckle."

"Ah! you laugh at me," said Barry, shaking his fist at her, "but you shall see. You will live to see me no more than Tartar will!" he grew excited in his argument. He placed his palms on the table on which he had been leaning, and he looked up and down. "What, cried he, you can pass, I imagine I should shrink before her? I'd think such as she could conquer me? Have I not seen a courage as another? Lives there the one who has witnessed my overthrow?"

Even as he spoke he lost his balance, and fell off the table, and then, as he fell, a wild but ineffectual grab at a chair that momentarily eluded him, barked his shins against a crazy ottoman, and finally came to anchor upon the floor, and the bag with such an extraordinary crash as released the dozen and three remaining tarts to him.

"By jingo! I went that at a rattling pace, ground he, and he was not a jot out of joint together again, and had leisure to rub an elbow that was considerably sore for years; but he was not at Norah. But that ungrateful person was in the act of administering consolation by reason of her mirth. She had broken, indeed, into uproarious laughter, and her consolation prevented from reaching the village schoolhouse below, where her aunt was presumably addressing the Blue Ribbonists. She laughed and laughed again, and Barry, catching the infection, joined in with her, and they both roared in concert, until you would think this merriment of theirs might wake the dead, and such a terrible thing be. Both he, indeed, and she were speechless with mirth, when the door slowly opened to open Miss MacGillivuddy.

So far as Norah was concerned the effect was magical. The child froze; the smile dropped from her lips, and she looked up at her head. But to Mr. Barry the entrance of the tyrant at this supreme moment seemed but the correct taste to the joke. He roared on with the greatest gusto, and before, merrily, unrestrainedly, whilst Miss MacGillivuddy stood still in the middle of the room and in the act of speaking.

"What is the meaning of all this?" she said. "Is it thus you keep this wicked girl in order? What have you been doing? Why are my cheeks so red?"

"Speak, sir," cried the spinster, her voice rising shrill with indignation. "What have you been doing? I insist upon an immediate answer."

"Leapfrog, my dear," returned Barry, the irrepressible, still laughing as if his heart would break. Then he turned to Norah, lifting her from her chair, and pushed her toward the door. "Run," he said, kindly. "Your term is up—I give you five minutes to get out of here."

Norah took the hint, caught up the crushed bag (even then she did not forget the little brothers), and darted like a swallow from the room.

Miss MacGillivuddy stood firm, and looked at the mouth of it. A fragrant steam ascended. Norah, but a baby in years as yet, was not proof against the sorrow dived from her eyes, her lips parted in an expectant smile.

"'Tis jam puffs," she said, in a delighted whisper. "What that Miss Morrie said. But how can we be sure of her truth until we see now, but to take into one of them? See now, I'd think you'd be able to get through the bag in the specified sixty minutes—fifty now, by Jove!"

CHAPTER XX.

He got out of the house, still laughing, and took his little brother, and came there in a highly sentimental mood, with his heart full of Constancia, and with a desire to gain from her some word of hope. But he had forgotten all about it by this time, and was now in the wildest spirits—so mercurial was his temperament. He was the patient that let to the highway, and so missed Constancia, who was on the lower pathway that led to the woods of Grange. She often wandered there, not in hope of seeing its master, as Father, but through her place and his adjoined, never knew of her solitary walks there—but because the poverty of the children, and the surrounding the cottage oppressed her, for-bidding thought, and a great longing for the dreary silence of the dense woods near her cottage. Only a little breathing, angry brook, now flushed and noisier than usual, because of last night's rain, divided her from these wished-for retreats; but as she came close to the brook, she found the stepping-stones had disappeared—buried beneath the savage little flood that came tumbling down from the hills. She was quick to find the stepping-stones covered or swept away, and how was she to find her way into the beloved woods?

As she stood, puzzled and perplexed, and gravely disappointed, she saw Stronge coming toward her, on the opposite side of the broad stream, walking quickly through the bushes, and she thought of her own situation.

He rather sunk in her estimation, as this lack of appreciation of all that she had sweated blood and sweat for, and she would not have glanced right or left at all their gorgeous coloring? Was he so material that he could think of nothing save things-mundane?

She wronged him overmuch, however. He was hurrying to see her. He lost his way, and he was looking for her. He was looking for her, because before his eyes there was pictured a vision of her that blotted out all the rest. Somehow, when she found how his face lighted up when he saw her, she, being a woman, forgave all his sins.

"Oh, how am I to get across?" she cried, and then blushing, she remembered her promise to Constancia. The cottage, and that therefore she had no right to dream of a visit to the woods when her guest required her, she continued hastily, "you are coming to see me?"

"I was coming to see you," said he, plainly. "He had heard of the Blue Ribbon lecture in the village, and knowing it would be a success, he had come to see her."

THE PARSON WAS PUZZLED.

He feared that he had blundered in the Marriage Service.

The clergyman was nervous. There could be no question about that. His duties were at an end, but he hung around the receiving party and his notions showed that he was in trouble. He appeared to be endeavoring to convince himself that everything was all right, but without success.

Finally he tapped the young man in knickerbockers on the shoulder and led him to one side.

"Fardon me," he said, shifting uneasily from one foot to the other, "but there is a matter of some delicacy that I wish to speak to you about."

"Yes," returned the young man, inquiringly.

"Yes," replied the clergyman. "I trust you will take no offense. It is a trifle unusual, but—"

"Was the wedding fee too small?" asked the young man, as the clergyman hesitated.

"Not at all, not at all," returned the clergyman promptly. "You see, the fact of the matter is that at the last minute I became somewhat confused—bewildered, as it were, by the novelty of the situation—and I would like to be assured that I got everything all right."

"Why, of course you did."

"When it came to the question of love, honor and obey, you know, I was afraid I—"

The clergyman paused for a minute and then he blurted out:

"You're the groom, aren't you?"

"Certainly."

"Then it's all right, and you have no idea how that relieves me. You see, I have never officiated at one of these blonder weddings before, and I was afraid I might have made a mistake."

Guides Needed.

Neither child nor adult can be loosed with impunity in the wilderness of books. If ever guides were wanted, it is here. By the blessing of circumstance, each of us can receive but a portion from the vast production of literature. Should not the portion of the little child have the oversight, the tender care, the loving guardianship of the wisest among us?

From his first fiction, the child's literary taste. It was Bacon who said, "That which we call education is in effect but an early custom. Since custom is the principal magistrate of man's life, let men endeavor to obtain good customs."

The bone is more pliant to all expressions and sounds, the joints are more supple to all feats of activity and motions in youth than afterwards, for it is true that late learners can not so well do as early.

The World's Great Leader!

Used by the High and Wealthy and Those in Humbler Circumstances.

Paine's Celery Compound the Chosen Medicine in all Well Regulated Homes.

Keep a Watch on the Substitutes and Imitations.

The world's great leader, Paine's Celery Compound, has no equal for feeding exhausted nerves and building up the weak and shattered body.

The greatest of modern medical men—Prof. Edwards K. Phelps, M. D., L.L.D., after years of hard practice and close scientific research, gave Paine's Celery Compound to millions who were suffering. The wonderworking compound has astonished rich and poor, learned and unlearned, by its marvellous cures.

The glad news has spread to all civilized lands that Paine's Celery Compound cures and permanently restores even the most desperate for the physician's skill. Proofs of such cures in the testimonial form are received every week from happy grateful men and women saved from the dark grave.

Paine's Celery Compound has fully proved its power as a banisher of dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney and liver troubles, and all diseases arising from impure and poisoned blood. Thousands of men and women, tired out, run down, sleepless, nervous, morose and despondent, have regained perfect health, strength and buoyancy of spirit, by the well advised use of nature's own medicine. It has given a new and brighter existence to a vast number of human beings who were tired of life and its many burdens.

If from the winter weather, and the variable days of early spring, you are left with nervous debility, headaches, insomnia, languidness, and nerves all out of order, do not hesitate a day longer; use Paine's Celery Compound, which is especially adapted for your case, and you will avoid future misery and suffering.

Paine's Celery Compound does not belong to the worthless families of services and sarsaparilla that are made public by newspaper advertising, and that always deceive unwary and too confiding people. Paine's Celery Compound is a truly scientific preparation recommended by the best medical men, chemists and professional men in the world. To give an idea of the popularity and great eminence that Paine's Celery Compound has reached, it is only necessary to state, that millions of people in all homes have made it their chosen medicine.

As popular goods are always imitated by unscrupulous men, buyers of Paine's Celery Compound should see that they get the old genuine celery in the world. Look for the trade mark—the name Paine's and the stalk of celery—on every bottle you are offered by dealers. Avoid all merchants who would substitute something that they call just as good; there is no other medicine that can take the place of Paine's Celery Compound; it is what you most urgently require to make you well.

HEIRS TO ENGLAND'S CROWN.

Only Once Has the Succession Been Recorded in English History.

Victoria's long line of descendants make it certain that the English crown will not lack for direct heirs at her death. Only once in English history has it seemed likely that the English crown would fall of a direct heir. When the thirteenth century was about five years old there was actually no direct heir to the English crown. Henry III. witnessed the prospective and seemingly probable extinction of the Norman line. He had four sons. His eldest, Henry, died six years before him without issue. His third son, Geoffrey, died three years before him leaving no son. Arthur of Brittany, and at his death, in 1189, Richard was unmarried, and John had no children. His only son, Richard, died without issue; John came to the throne, and though childless himself, murdered his nephew. He was now absolutely the last of the direct Norman line. In the year of his father's death, 1189, he divorced his first wife, Hawisa of Gloucester. His second wife was Isabella of Angoulême, but he had no child till 1207, when Henry III. was born. Thus the possibilities of direct heirship to the English crown passed to the heirs of Henry III., narrowed down to a single line.

WHAT WE INHERIT.

We are not to blame for. We cannot be held responsible for the disposition and tendency which we derive from our ancestors, nor are we responsible for the germs of disease which may manifest themselves in our bodies. We are responsible for the germs of disease which we allow these germs to develop into serious diseases which will impair our usefulness and destroy our lives. We are responsible if we transmit to our descendants the disease germs which it is possible for us to eradicate by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, the one true blood purifier. This medicine has power to make rich, red blood and establish perfect health in place of disease.

Scott's Sarsaparilla

In the spring suffer more severely than at any other season. Scott's Sarsaparilla would soon make them healthy, strong, active and vigorous. A weak, debilitated, played out, run down, suffering and complaining woman can hardly be so that her friends will hardly know her. Her sprightly carriage, cheerful laugh and buoyant conversation will make her welcomed, admired and appreciated wherever she goes.

MADE STRONG

By Scott's Sarsaparilla, the blotches and pimples cleared from her complexion, the faded lips gained a new color, the sunken eyes became bright and clear, the skin became a rich, healthy, glowing complexion.

"I was so run down that I could not attend to my work," writes Miss M. J. Gould, Lloydsdon, Ont. Mr. W. S. Bond, our stockbroker, recommended Scott's Sarsaparilla. I tried it. One bottle cured me and I am again strong and vigorous, wholly made so.

"Ten people out of a dozen are invalids," says a recent medical authority. At least eight out of ten are so, if we are to allow, as suffering from some form of blood-disease, which a persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would be sure to cure. Then, don't be an invalid.

How to Have a Soft Skin.

A velvety softness and whiteness may be given to the skin by using pure castile soap and oatmeal during the process of bathing.

It is not so difficult to accomplish the purpose of thin cheese cloth, about five inches square, should be made by machine and each one filled loosely with the following mixture: Five pounds of oatmeal ground fine, half a pound of pure castile soap reduced to powder, and one pound of finely-powdered Italian orris root. These ingredients should be thoroughly mixed together. The oatmeal should be used as a poultice, being dipped in warm water, when they will make a thick, rich lather.

Misunderstanding Our God.—It would be strange if we did not often misunderstand the ways of God. The easiest way to stand the remembrance that it is impossible that He should misunderstand us, or judge us as we judge Him. It is when our judgments are most perturbed that we are inclined to quarrel with His dealings.

And then (if we will) stop to consider what our opinion is not valuable. As one who waits for a cloudless day to estimate the genial warmth of the sun, we might wait for the clearing of our clouds to doubt before we imagine that we know the purpose of God's love.

An Old Joke.

Here is a joke which is at least 100 years old, and is as true as the sun. It is that we are not unlike their descendants, and could on compulsion grind out a pun with due elaboration.

In a dispute between a man and a woman, the man was tried in Essex county the other day, the counsel for the plaintiff, in pointing out the boundary said: "We lie on this side."

The opposing counsel said: "And we lie on this side." A jurymen cried out: "If you lie on both sides, how are we to tell which is the best?"—Boston Transcript.

WHAT TURPENTINE WILL DO

Turpentine is the best friend housekeepers have, and a supply should always be kept on hand. It is good for burns, excellent for colds, for rheumatism, for sore throat and a quick remedy for fits or convulsions. It is a sure preventative against malarial fevers, and drops rendering patients safe from sun infection during the summer. It drives away ants and bugs from terror and cures by putting a drop on the system. It is also effective against bedbugs and insects neither fatal nor clothing. For cleaning paint add a spoonful to a pail of warm water. A little turpentine in your wash water makes washing easier.—Chicago Chronicle.

PROPPED UP BY PILLOWS FOR EIGHTEEN MONTHS.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE WITH HEART DISEASE, YET CURED BY DR. AGNEW'S CURE FOR THE HEART.

Do not our largest sympathies well out to those who suffer from heart disease? It comes so suddenly, and its symptoms are usually so distressing that the direct agony experienced by the patient. The case of Mr. L. W. Wray, of Toronto Junction, Ont., who was unable to lie down in bed for eighteen months owing to smothering spells and palpitation, is by no means exceptional. Who would have thought the case could be cured, and yet one bottle of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart removed trouble in this case. It gives such speedy relief, that even where the symptoms are less dangerous, it ought at once to be taken as a means of driving this terrible disease from the system. Sold by W. G. Eggar.

HASTY COOKING AND DYSPEPSIA.

The "hurry-up" system of cooking practiced in this country is what is slowly, perhaps, but surely, making us a race of dyspeptics, many of whom have had an insight into that malodorous place, a French kitchen, where two or three little holes in a stove cook such delicate dishes and perform such culinary feats as our great roasting ovens have no conception of. We are told by the same authority that the great secret of the French cookery is a knowledge of the variety of food to be had, plenty of fuel, and a fire that is not too hot, and that one secret of the bad cooking among Americans is that they are in so much of a hurry when they prepare a meal that they imagine it necessary to have plenty of fuel and a roaring hot fire. With meats this simply bakes or incinerates the fibres, instead of permitting the juices to be retained in the meat. We are commended to the elegant, refined, French woman for dainty house-keeping, and dainty, economical cooking.

Stand close to a high fence and try to leap over. You fail. Walk back a few steps, get a good start. The fence is easily cleared. Neglect your cough, never mind your loss in weight, and when consumption faces you, your strength may not be sufficient to carry you over the danger-line. If you could only go back a few weeks and make a good start, you might win.

Scott's Emulsion, of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, is for you even if you are only a little thin. SCOTT'S EMULSION has been endorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest of Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites. Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size is just enough to cure your cough and help your baby.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

For the last twelve months I have been perfecting a Sulley Gas Plow, and today I have one that has no equal on earth, in a rid or walking Plow. It will plow 2 inches or 10 inches deep and will do the work equal to any single plow ever put in the field. It is the only plow manufactured with steel heads; it is calculated that every plow will break five heads during its lifetime, which means $3.00; then the steel head is lighter, and being stronger enables us to raise the beam higher which prevents choking and allows deep plowing. Then our Patent Steel Attachment is a dandy. As you know we have always led in the Gang Plow trade, and we have now made another leap which leaves our competitors way behind. Walking plows for $10. Don't forget that we retail the best plows on earth at wholesale price; five styles of road carts, from $15 to a nice single harness for $3. Did you ever see our steel wagon and celebrated wagon springs? Do you want a wind-mill? We have the latest thing in an aerator? We have the only corn cultivator that will cut and kill the weeds, five styles from $6. Our horse turnip drill is the best made. Call and see our double mouldboard plow which makes any width of turnip drill, hoes and dig your potatoes. We have the only screw corn planter made. The best and cheapest machine and harness oil by barrel or gallon. We are doing an enormous trade in bicycles. A dozen styles to choose from. Our "Special" leads the band, considering the quality it is the cheapest machine today made. An A 1 typewriter for $45.

P. S.—1 spring tooth cultivator, 2 top buggies, 1 harrow, hand and new milch cow for sale cheap.

CHILDREN'S PROMISES.

Why it is Dishonourable to Break Faith With Boys and Girls.

Parents and others constantly make promises to little children which they have not the slightest intention of fulfilling. It is a promise for this and a promise for that, and the only excuse for neglecting to keep it (as is usually the case) is that promises are soon and easily forgotten by children. What lessons for mothers and fathers to instill into young minds! How many times do they say, "I will do this" and then do nothing.

One often threatened with punishment for the repetition of some mischievous or offensive, which is never carried out. The little ones become so accustomed to such threats that they arouse neither fear nor respect. Promises and threats should never be made unless one is prepared to fulfill them.

Promises are often required of little children when they neither know nor understand what such engagements they are. Unless the parent respects his promise, how are the children to estimate the value of their own promises? It is right that children should be compelled to give promises of respect, honesty, and obedience with the obligation may imply. He himself fails them when he says, "I promise" or "I will," and then he fails them when he fails to keep his word.

It will teach the children to respect their own word when given, and act on moral bases on many a nature.—Prairie Farmer.

NEW REGULATIONS.

Hereafter medical health officers will be required to forward the names of those
guilty of breaches of the law to the provincial authorities, who will prosecute. Hith-resulted. The appointment of a division register is also to be made, who shall make

return of births, marriages and deaths
twice a year. Every physician is now required to report the death to the medical
board of officers the name of the deceased giving a death certificate. The latter shall make investigations and report to the division
register, who will in turn, without delay, issue a permit to bury the deceased. The law applies to all deaths, and puts heavy penalties on any undertaker, pall bearer, clergyman and grave digger who permits a burial without a certificate from the division register. Any doctor found to have falsified a false report as to the cause of death is subject to a $50 fine and discipline by the medical council.

THE CABLE CASE.

Among the curious things in life few
are more amazing than the constitutional peculiarities occasionally met with. The professor who delivered the introductory address to the students at one of the London hospitals thought it well to put his audience on their guard.

He intimated two very singular cases.
One was that of a man who was also a fool. The other was that of a man who wished to test his person's susceptibility,
and at dinner surreptitiously got him to partake of a glass of wine of which was a grain of rice. He ate two or three balloons and soon after had to leave the table,
declaring that he was absolutely certain
he had not partaken of any.

The other case was one in which the juice of the cucumber acted as a powerful
excitant and produced at once a virulent skin eruption. This man was so very susceptible that he was even when it was injected as champagne. At a public dinner
he whispered to his neighbor that it was gossamer when he was drinking, and as a proof he turned up his shirt sleeve and showed him the rash developing.

That the cucumber intended by nature
for a wine-cucumber.

REMARKABLE FACTS.

"Mamma," said little Helen one day
on returning from school, "some little girls asked me to-day if I had any little brothers and sisters, and I just ran away
without saying anything."

"Why did you do that, dear? Why didn't you tell them?"

"Because, mamma, I was too ashamed
to tell them that we were so poor that I was the only little baby who had ever had
at our house."

PROLONGED HIS LIFE.

Mr. McAdams writes: "Have doctored
for four years with four different doctors
for pain in my right lung, which prevented my doing any work, and cough night and day also suffered great pain. I grew very thin and was getting worse; the pain and suffering increased; hearing of such remarkable cures made by Douglas's Egyptian Liniment I determined to try it to remove the pain. I received immediate relief. I followed directions, pain decreased, cough lessened
and before six bottles were used I felt a sound man. It is now exactly three years since this pain, and I have had no relapse. As soon as I began to use the Liniment I stopped taking any medicine whatever, and I do believe that Douglas's Egyptian Liniment has prolonged my life. People said I was dying of consumption. I am firm in my statement and trust that other people when suffering with lung trouble, or cough, will immediately do as I did, as a last resort and save dollars. Yours truly,
WATSON MCADAMS, TAMWORTH.

ADULTERATED BUTTER.

Washington, May 17.—In a communication from the British Board of Agriculture a report is made of a sample of imported
butter analyzed and found to be adulterated with oleic acid. The board from May, 1895, to February, 1896, inclusive. The total number of samples
so analyzed was 985, representing the products of twelve different countries. The countries
in whose products adulterated specimens
were found were Belgium, Denmark,
Germany, Holland, Norway and Sweden
and Russia. The countries contributing samples among which no adulterated
specimens were found were Argentina, Austria, Canada, France, New Zealand and
the United States. Denmark, by far the largest contributor of foreign butter products, was found to be adulterated in 11
hitherto an almost irreproachable reputation
in the butter market, contributed in a total of 182 specimens eight adulterated, or nearly five per cent.

COCA AND ITS USES.

We are wont to associate this new drug
of marvelous medicinal properties with the fervid beverage of the breakfast table, but they are quite different in source and in properties. Coca is a most beneficial gift to the sick and suffering, and is attested by rapid increase in vitality and the reliance
now placed upon it by the most eminent practitioners in Europe and America.
Multitude with Coca Wine is the most valuable of the medicinal wines, and the value of coca may be obtained and the stimulating results derived from its use in nerous debility, weakness, or palpitation of the heart, warrant the high appreciation of its merits expressed by medical men who have used it in their practice. Coca Wine is a most valuable patent medicine, but a highly specialized pharmaceutical product, designed to cure
debility, nervous weakness, or sinking digestion and assimilation, and by imparting tone to the nervous system,
Coca Wine is worthy of your confidence. Sold by all druggists.

the message over 15,000 miles of a part of

The following accounts were presented: John H. Dalziel, $12.50; J. E. Desroche, $10.00; Rathbun Company $21.65; W. Stoddard $2.00. Referred to proper committees.

Councillor Stoddard presented Report of Committee on Levee and Dredging, etc., on petitions in reference to cutting marl on market. This report stated that it was desirable in the interests of the marl and that it was not legal to pass a bylaw discriminating in favor of any, and hence no action should be taken.
Councillor Reeve Dryden for the Committee of Charity reported the following expenditures:—Dr. Vandervoort, for professional services $15; Jas. H. Hart $2; A. S. Valen $8; E. N. Irvine $2; Jas. Councillor Richardson presented the report of the Streets, Market and Gas Committee, showing an expenditure of $237.57; also that in reference to claim of Miss Euphemia Dougherty for damages sustained by a defective boardwalk, favoring payment as follows: Wm. Jamieson, $100; J. D. Hart $50; Dr. Newton $25; Miss Dougherty $51, a total of $176. The report of the committee was adopted.

The Town Property and Police Committee reported through Councillor Irvine that it was unable to do anything in reference to watering the streets, the matter not being able to secure support from business men; also, that the police office had been fitted up at an expense of $49.75. The report was adopted.

A petition from W. J. Malley and other merchants, asking that the Council should make some provision for the proper watering of the streets, started a lively discussion. The question was whether the town should pay for all the watering, or share the expense with the merchants.
Councillor Hoppins thought that merchants paying tax on their goods should have some protection. He also suggested a route tax on a possible solution. Dryden, Irvine, Richardson, Clement and Rathbun favored the old procedure; thinking that the merchants should not pay more than it has done in the past.

On the motion of Councillor Richardson, seconded by Councillor Mellow, it was resolved that the petition of the merchants, asking that they be appointed a committee to work in conjunction with the Council, be referred to a committee to be called some arrangement to have the streets watered.
Council adjourned.

CHANGES IN POSTAL REGULATIONS

Heretofore requests for return have not been recognized on any class of matter other than letters. The Postmaster-General, has, however, decided that in future, (dating from June 1st, 1896) any matter of the 3rd, 4th or 5th class which may be written or printed a request for return to any specified address may be so returned, subject to the payment by the sender, on delivery to him through the Post Office, of the full amount of postage to which the article was in the first place liable, together with any charges rated thereon in connection with any deficiency in the original prepayment. Photograph albums, whether empty or with photographs inserted, may be sent by post, either within Canada or to any Postal Union Country at the rate of 1 cent per 2 ounces. Persons writing to Postmasters for information of an official nature should be careful to enclose the necessary postage for reply. The lowest rate for school examination papers is 1 cent per two ounces. Prepaid at that rate they must not of course contain any writing whatsoever of the nature of correspondence.

A "Riley" Entertainment.
A "Riley" party was recently held by one of our church charity organizations. It proved a decidedly unique affair and quite a profitable one also. The decorations of the church, parades, and the main part of the church, which was most artistically entwined about pillar, post and picture. A large picture of James Whitcomb Riley was placed upon the wall facing the entrance, and over it in paste-board letters.

"When the frost is on the pumpkin,
And the fodder's in the shock;
Almost all the young people who had gotten up the entertainment were dressed to represent Riley's characters, and several of the most important presided over the booths. At one, which was literally covered with paper flowers, "Elizabeth Ann, she can cook best things to eat," sold cakes and pies. At another Riley's poems and photographs were sold, and at still another "The raggedy man! He works for pa," was sold. Down apples were sold on an improvised apple tree as fast as he could sell them. And among the purchases were "Little Orphan Annie," "Granny's come to our house," "The fishing party," "Max and Jim," "Pa and ma and me, all three," and many others. While all were busy buying and tasting the good things,
"The old hand" marched in—
And stiffer and grander tunes; but somehow—anyway
I want to hear the old hand play
Sleek tunes as 'John Brown's body' and 'Sweet Alice,' don't you know?
And 'The camel is a conundrum' and 'John Anderson, my Jo.'"
And the impromptu band played them. Later in the evening some of the Riley poems were recited.—Ladies' Home Journal.

An Assiduous Old Lady.

The car stopped and on climbed an elaborately dressed lady, followed by a nurse girl bearing a small boy in her arms. The lady looked entirely too young to be the boy's mother and was dressed in a style becoming rather a young girl. In addition she paid no attention whatever to the infant and nurse, who took a seat behind her, and the spectators on the car began to think they had been deceived in imagining that there was any relation between them. Presently she raised her daintily gloved hand and signaled the conductor to stop. Then she stepped gracefully off and made her way to the curb. Looking back indifferently she said:—

"Jane, bring the boy!"
The boy evidently did not want to come. He clung to the seat in spite of the nurse, whereas the fin de siecle mother called:—

"Boy—boy—come along!"
And the old lady on the back seat sniffed indignantly and said:—

"Well, I reckon that's one of these new women. She didn't even know her child's name."

England is an American Power.

A glance at the map will show the extent to which Britain is an American power. The following is a list of the British possessions in America, with their respective areas:

Newfoundland and Labrador.....	Sq. Miles. 160,000
Canada.....	3,456,383
The Bermudas.....	100
The West Indies.....	15,175
British Honduras.....	7,500
British Guiana.....	169,000
The Falkland Islands.....	7,500

3,758,010

Against this the United States possesses a total area of 3,611,000 square miles, being 147,000 less than belong to the British crown.

How He Made Himself Pleasant.

Brown—How is it if you are such a favorite everywhere you go?

White—Oh, that's easy enough. Whenever anything pleasant happens to me I keep it to myself so as to make nobody envious, but all my misfortunes I tell to everybody who will hear me, and you can't imagine how happy they make everybody I tell them to. They say, you know, that misery loves company. I don't know how that is, but company loves misery every time.—Philadelphia American.

FRIDAY, MAY 29, 1896.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

TYENINAGA RESERVE.

The electrical storm of last Monday night was the outcome of much rejoicing among the farmers in this vicinity as rain was greatly needed. The sympathy of this community is with sufferers of the late fire which visited your town on May 25.

A political meeting was held in the Council house on Tuesday evening. A large number attended; Jas. Balcanquhall and W. B. Northrup were the principal speakers.

Miss Alice Moore, who has been attending the Mohawk Institute near Brantford for nearly two years, has returned home. The passage will soon be ready for its next occupants. The Rev. A. G. Smith is expected to arrive within a couple of weeks.

WESTBROOK.

Thos. Sproul has set out two hundred Apple trees.

F. Marshall is rushing the work on his new corn barn.

The Sons of Temperance lodge is in a flourishing condition.

A. Howie lost a valuable cow, it broke its leg in the pasture and had to be killed.

The heavy rain on Monday night was very welcome.

The Misses McAmbridge, of Richmond, were the guests of Miss Kate Sheehan last week.

J. Leonard and daughter Annie are visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. Boward, of Picton.

Ge. Smith spent Saturday last in Belleville visiting his mother who is quite ill.

NORTHPORT.

Everything that is booming in our little village and new industries are being started daily. Last week a new shoe shop was opened.

They say he is possibly well.

Miss Vanalstine, of Napanee, is the guest of Miss H. Fraser.

The town was taken by storm or by lightning on Saturday last.

F. B. Clark has gone home for a holiday. Election is all the talk of the time but it is hard to place the man.

Misses Valles, Whitton, McGaughey, and Jamieson were guests at the Ontario Inn Saturday and Sunday.

We are glad to see Mr. Marsh around again and hope he may soon be restored to his duties as Minister.

The young lady cyclist who wheeled to Deseronto to church Sunday evening secured the services of a young man to ride the wheel home and she came "faster."

Many of our people visited Picton on the 24th.

Miss Christie, of Picton, was the guest of her sister Mrs. W. Barker last week.

C. G. Sprague spent Sunday at Picton. Local shows were longingly looked for to refresh the herbage of the fields and gardens.

NAPANEE ROAD.

The heavy fall of rain on Monday night was a great relief to farmers all over a mile on their face. It will make a big improvement to crops.

One of the worst fires for many years visited this section of the county being in the east part of Deseronto. Fire could be seen in all directions from our street. Nearly every farm turned out and gave all the assistance possible. Many teams were busy hauling furniture to save it from burning.

Many Deseronto people who were burned out came down with farmers to find shelter for the night.

On the same night, Levi Sager's chimney burst out while the men folk were all away. Neighbors turned out and put out the fire.

Vin. Bowen, who was struck with a pile pole by Sam. Davy, will be up before court on the 5th of June.

Many of our neighbors have had their barns burned out by fires.

Six young ladies passed down on their bicycles on Saturday on their way to Napanee.

Our road has been black with buggies since Monday on their way to Deseronto to visit the fair.

Talk is cheap at election time; a little more money and less talk would be better.

The strawberry crop in this section will be about the same as usual.

Messrs. Andrew and Allan Oliver lost this house in the fire at Deseronto.

We hear they were insured but not enough to cover the loss.

Mrs. A. Kimmerly and daughter, of Monticello, are here visiting Sunday.

MALTING WITH COD LIVER OIL AND HYPOPHOSPHITES FOR LUNG AND THROAT DISEASES.

Perfectly well established is the value of cod liver oil in various diseases of the air passages, and combined with maltine and the hypophosphites, its remedial value is vastly enhanced. In the elegant and palatable preparation, Maltine with Cod Liver Oil, and that sustainer of vitality and digestive, maltine. No emulsion can compare in purity with this preparation. In addition to disguising the unpleasant taste of the oil and rendering it more easily digested, the maltine plays a most important part in maintaining adequately the process of nutrition so essential in wasting and pulmonary diseases. This is done by rendering the starch food in a form which assures its assimilation, with a result that emaciation gives way speedily to plumpness, the irritated bronchial tubes are soothed, the growth natural and health becomes an assured fact. Maltine with Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites is a food medicine and digestive!

It is said that Mrs. J. H. Gardiner, of Belleville, was the first person to observe the fire. She rushed out to send in the alarm from the box. Others had in the meantime seen it and anticipated her.

It would be invidious to mention the names of all those who did splendid service and for the protection of property.

Nevertheless it is only just to state that Mayor Rathbun stood in the midst of the fight through the long hours and directed affairs with his wonted ability and energy.

The following students of the Napanee Collegiate Institute worked like bricks and gave valuable assistance.—W. B. Vanalstine, A. G. Preston, P. P. Preston, A. G. Brown, F. Grieve, H. Ashley, R. W. Brown.

P. S. Rathbun had gone down the bay for a cruise. He heard of the fire at Deseronto at the moment. Capt. Bartley and Engineer Hayes bringing the Sista to Deseronto in one hour.

C. H. H. Martin, assistant chief W. Miller and fireman Burke accompanied the Chatham engine from Kingston. The run from Kingston junction to Deseronto was made in thirty-five minutes—a rate of a mile a minute.

There were several people who owned property who had not one cent of insurance. Most regrettable.

The conflagration presented a magnificent spectacle to people beholding it from the Fredericton shore.

Some assert that a little yacht was at the side of the shingle dock a short time before the fire broke out.

There were reports that several men were drowned, but this arose from the fact of three or four men jumping off a dock to swim to another, their retreat being cut off.

Thos. Sager was slightly injured during the fire, being struck by some falling material.

There were no serious accidents during the day.

In the evening Commissioner McCullough was seen in about 30 special constables to keep order.

Two flat cars were destroyed on a side track.

Burning shingles were picked up four or five miles from town. Some set fire to Hugh Hagerty's fence on the boundary road.

The Mohawks of the Reserve have, through Agent Eggar, sent in large quantities of butter, eggs, potatoes, meat, etc., for the sufferers.

The Napanee fire engine was under the charge of Engineers Mair and Stevens.

On the evening of the burning, about 100 men of the reserve were called out.

Those citizens who were in Kingston, Picton and elsewhere were in a state of great apprehension. They heard exaggerated reports of the burning.

It is asserted on the best of evidence that there were men belonging to the town who did little or nothing in the way of assistance on the day of the fire.

The telegraph and telephone wires along the front were damaged by the falling of posts and smokestacks, and messages could not be forwarded.

Supt. Hampton has had a strong force of men effecting repairs.

Many in the West end of town supposed that the town was on fire.

It was almost impossible for some time to get on either side of the burning. Rails were twisted by the heat, and Road-master Wallbridge was very busy next day putting things to rights.

Many precious family heirlooms and other articles which money cannot replace were burned or lost.

Assistant Chief Cummings and three men of the Belleville brigade came down with a reel and 500 feet of hose. A welcome addition to the fighting material.

A great many folk who will never again go down home on a holiday.

Rev. R. Taylor and family had, of course, to vacate the parsonage. Their household effects were sadly damaged in removal.

The parsonage was one of the critical points in the great fight.

In all about 70 houses were burned and 90 families rendered homeless.

Much furniture, placed on the hill for safety, was ruined by flying cinders.

GREEN POINT.

Mrs. A. Vandusen and J. E. Carman went to Kingston this week and brought home Mrs. Carman who has been for some time in the hospital in that city.

Mrs. Carman is feeling much better and is slightly improved and hopes to progress favorably. All three express themselves as highly pleased with the management of the hospital and the kindness and attention shown by all the staff, particularly by Dr. L. Wood and his wife who were unwearied in their attentions, even like mother to the wharf.

It is needless to say that the kindness is most highly appreciated.

Mrs. Lavina Carman arrived here yesterday from Chicago where she has been staying for four years with her brother-in-law, Mr. Dooley, and is now at Thorp Carman's. She is accompanied by Miss Dooley.

How to Lace Shoes.

Few people lace their shoes correctly. About the nearest anybody gets to it, is to lace as tightly as possible. The correct way is to put your foot as much as possible in the heel of your shoe, when you are about to lace it.

The best way to do this, is to rest the heel of your shoe on a chair standing in front of you.

Over the instep it should be laced as tightly as possible; this will hold your foot back in the shoe, give your toes freedom, and prevent their being cramped.

Lace above your ankle to suit your foot.

When you ask for Scott's Emulsion and your druggist gives you a package with a salmon-colored wrapper with the picture of a man and fish on it—you can trust that man!

DOUGLAS' EGYPTIAN

For the last twelve months I have been perfecting a Sulky Gang Plow, and to-day I have one that has no equal on earth, in a riding or walking Plow. It will plow 2 inches or 10 inches deep and will do the work of any single plow ever put in the field. It is the only plow manufactured with steel heads; it is calculated that every plow will break two heads during its lifetime, which means $3.00; then the steel head is lighter, and being stronger enables us to raise the beam higher which prevents choking and allows deep plowing. Then our Patent Seat Attachment is a dandy. As you know we have always led in the Gang Plow trade, and we have now made another leap which leaves our competitors aware behind. Walking plows for $10. Don't forget that we retail the best top buggy on earth at wholesale price; five styles of road carts, from $15; a nice single harness for $9. Did you ever see our steel wagon and celebrated wagon 'prings? Do you want a windmill? We have the latest thing in an aerator. We have the only corn cultivator that will cut and kill the weeds, five styles from $6. Our horse turnip drill is the best made. Call and see our double mould-board plow which works any width of turnip drill, does and digs your potatoes. We have the only pure corn planter made. The best and cheapest machine and harness oil by barrel or pail. We are doing an enormous trade in bicycles. A dozen styles to choose from. Our "Special" leads the field; considering the quality it is the cheapest machine to-day made. An 11 typewriter for $45.

P. S.—1 engine, 6000 cultivator, 2 top buggies, 1 platoon, second hand, and 1 new sulky cow for sale cheap.
